Coronavirus and Your Rights!

I am correcting a small error from last week. One month after 9/11, federal health officials asked states to pass the Model State Emergency Health Powers Act. In an emergency it would suspend various individual rights and give government certain emergency powers, such as quarantine.

I said forty states passed it, but that was incorrect. Nearly forty state legislatures introduced it, but only 20 states passed it in part or in whole.

Find out your state law. Google your state, along with the words “statute” “code” “rule” “quarantine” and “emergency.” Check out our CCHFreedom Facebook page for a pinned Facebook Live video of me talking last week about your rights and government powers during a declared public health emergency.
